Sylvain Rabuel, 48, is a graduate from Sciences Po Paris and holds a Master's Diploma from the ESCP business school. After working as Brand Manager at Mondelez and Marketing Director as Tiscali, he joined Club Med in 2004 as Marketing Director, France prior to becoming Managing Director, Europe and Africa New Markets and then being appointed CEO France, Europe & Africa in 2015. While holding those positions, he made an active contribution to the successful upgrading and globalisation strategy pursued by Club Med by driving the company's substantial growth through an innovative policy in terms of accommodation, and through focusing on QPR and on respect for customers and customer experience.

In this new position, Sylvain Rabuel's mission will be to extend the substantial development of DomusVi business activities in France, in Spain and worldwide, relying on his managing experience in a wide range of trades, sectors and cultures, and on his acknowledged expertise in ensuring quality and customer satisfaction.

"I am very proud to be joining DomusVi and its employees worldwide at this particular time in the Group's growth, and so to commit myself to working on the social inclusion of the elderly, who are a key element in our societies. I am convinced that our considerate approach, our innovative bent, and the quality of service we provide to our residents and customers throughout their consumer experience, from their home to our service residences and all the way to our medical residences, will enable us to respond in a humane and effective way to the challenge of an ageing population across the world" stated DomusVi Group CEO, Sylvain Rabuel.
